Tricentennial Trivia

Where was a "company town" located in Upper Merion?

Answer: By 1918, the Alan Wood Steel Company was thriving and decided to construct a "company town" in Swedeland to house its many workers. Streets were laid out on the former Potts Farm and several hundred houses were built. Swedeland became a sizable town with utilities, property for its public school and playground, and other necessary facilities furnished at the expense of the company.

FARMERS MARKET

Market Mobbed!

Flash Mobbed that is!! The Upper Merion Dance and Gymnastics Center popped in mid-morning with a surprise performance at the opening of the summer market on Saturday, May 18. The fun continues this week with even more new vendors, our first Community Yard Sale of the year, and more entertainment and special events.

Inclement Weather - Solar Down

Weather conditions caused the cancellation of the Delaware Valley Amateur Astronomers Solar Saturday event on May 18.
